VISION

CCTV

With the advancement of technology in the area of crime detection and monitoring, the need for CCTV applications has become undeniable and arguably cannot be overemphasized, which is why we are introducing the Closed Circuit Television system (CCTV) as a tool in tracking crimes, monitoring movement of persons and staffers in public places and private companies.

The technology is simple to use and enables the management/organization to view, monitor, reduce and manage situational crimes and business activities. With our comprehensive and fully customized reports, the utilization of this system is made easy, simple and effective.

1 Preventing crimes- it helps you identify how a crime happened and to spot it in action.

2 Protecting Employees–it protects them against false allegations which are very common depending on the nature of the business.

3 Preventing theft- a lot of times it is the employees themselves who steal from the business, statistics and focus have shown this.

4 Keeping records- it serves as an automated system for keeping records and can allow you to prove to clients and check yourself that their shipments were indeed deployed.

5 Inspiring confidence- it is also useful to the customers themselves by creating a safe feeling environment. It allows you to spot crimes against customers.

6 Settling disputes- it helps to know who is in the wrong when a customer complains about your services.

7 Evidence has shown that it has reduced the rate of robbery against most financial institutions.

8 The benefits are immeasurable; however it also aids the police and other security agencies in curbing situational crimes
